

Chrysalis Day Nursery Heuristic Play Centre

We are happy to introduce our new Heuristic Play Centre. This can be found in the corridor outside Cocoons. There are pump bags, boxes and baskets full of treasure for anyone to explore.

When the children come out to play in this area there is a calm, unhurried atmosphere in which they can explore real and natural objects. The children are allowed to make their own choices about which things they want to investigate and in fact the adult does not 'interfere' with the experience. This way, the child has a richer and more stimulating experience, developing confidence and concentration as they play.

We provide treasure baskets for the babies and a variety of collections of items for the toddlers. These children investigate all the physical possibilities of an object – rolling, filling, stacking, dumping, fitting things inside each other, balancing and manipulating things in all sorts of ways.

We can give anybody further information about the value of this type of play in nursery.
