

Love is in the Air

What a busy time we had on Valentine's Day. We all came to nursery dressed to impress in red or pink and what a fun-time everyone had. It was also the start of National Potato Week and some children even remembered to bring in a potato from home as well.

The Caterpillar babies started their day playing in warm mashed potato, a few were a little unsure so they made pink peppermint creams instead. They were supposed to go home for Mum's and Dad's but the babies had so much fun exploring and investigating the mixture it was decided that it wasn't such a good idea after all!!!!

The Cocoon children made Valentine cards and in the afternoon they had an 'Evening Wedding Reception' to link in with their topic on Celebrations and also Valentine's Day. The reception was held in darkness and the Cocoon's cuddled up in drapes and shone torches around the room while listening to love songs.

The Little Butterflies rolled potatoes to the one they love as well as drawing pictures of their Mummy's and Daddy's and threaded beads to make bracelets to take home.

The Big Butterflies had lots of cozy chats and talked about who they love and why. They wrote love messages to one another and even found time to make heart shaped biscuits to take home to the people they love.

And all this in one day .....learning through play!
